MRS. HAROLD OOSTERBAAN, of Muskegon, has joined the happy horde of Michigan coho fishermen. Fishing in Lake Michigan with silver herring, Mrs. Oosterbaan caught her limit in no time at all. Biggest salmon tipped in at 17 lbs. and 31 inches long. The smaller one hit the scales at 16 1/2 lbs. and 31 inches long. The remarkable thing about the salmon is they were just 5 inches long when planted in 1966. They are feeding off the pesky alewives which have plagued the Great Lakes this summer. (AP Wirephoto)

Polish South Side Milwaukee Goal Of March Today

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Open housing demonstrators, joined by out-of-state contingents, gathered for a march into the heavily Polish-American South Side today while National guard troops camped nearby to begin a weekend of riot control training.

March leaders expect the number of marchers to exceed 1,500.

Police canceled all weekend days off and the Milwaukee County sheriff's department put all personnel on weekend alert as plans moved forward for a march into a section that reacted with bricks, bottles and slurs to marches late last month. "At 1 p.m., we're going deep into the South Side," the Rev. James E. Groppi, a white Roman Catholic priest leading the demonstrations, said at a rally Friday night.

The rally climaxed a 12th straight night of demonstrations triggered by the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Father Groppi, a native of the South Side, is council adviser.

For the first time in eight nights there was no marching. The daily and nightly marches were reported Friday to be costing Milwaukee $20,000 a day in police overtime pay. The South Side, considered the area of the most strenuous opposition to open housing, has three times been the scene of demonstrations. The first two marches, staged by about 200 youth council demonstrators Aug. 28 and 29, provoked violence.

A third march last Saturday was without serious incident. That march had not been an-

UAW, Resigned To Long Strike, Delays Meeting

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers, apparently resigned to a long strike against the Ford Motor Co., are giving themselves two more weeks to boost their $67 million strike war chest.

The union rescheduled for Oct. 8 a special convention to raise dues which had originally been set for Sept. 23, and was designed to bolster the strike fund.

The union's secretary treasurer, Emil Mazey, said Friday the walkout would last "at least a month."

The strike, which began just after midnight Thursday, has already started ripples through the nation's economy as some of Ford's 7,000 major suppliers started laying off workers.

Mazey said serious bargaining won't resume at Ford until the nation's No. 2 autobody begins to run out of its stock of 1968 model cars.

Ford says its supply of 85,000 new models ready for introduction Sept. 21 will last about 30 days. Ford also has about 70,000 1967 models in dealers' hands.

"I don't want to give the impression that we won't meet with the company for four weeks," Mazey said. "But there won't be much pressure on the company until that time."

Although no negotiations have been scheduled, the union and the company will meet Monday to set up a timetable for resuming bargaining.

Meanwhile, the Budd Co., one of Ford's major suppliers, laid off some 1,000 of its 5,000 workers at a Philadelphia plant where Budd makes stampings, tools and dies for Ford.

Both sides appear to be miles apart on wages alone. The Big Three automakers offered the union 13 cents an hour in wage hikes to be increased at 2.8 percent for each of the second two years of a proposed three year contract.

The union, whose members now average $4.70 an hour in wages and fringes, rejected the offer.

Jeannette Strong of Gary, Ind., chairman of NAACP Region 3, announced she had sent telegrams to all NAACP chapters in seven states to join in the Milwaukee demonstrations today.

The call went to chapters in Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

A busload of 35 persons arrived Thursday night from Toronto, Canada.

Bias Charged At Abortion Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — A three-day international abortion conference ended amid charges it discriminated against women and favored a conservative-Catholic viewpoint.

The 1,000 delegates came up with no specific answers. But a major theme stressed that legislators couple any abortion law reform efforts with an attack on poverty.

There were shocked expressions from experts in law, medicine and ethics that an affluent America might consider what Thomas O'Toole of Northeastern University Law School called the "incredible approach—to get rid of people rather than poverty."

While Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, was making the wind-up speech Friday declaring the sponsors—The Harvard Divinity School and the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation—had "performed a valuable public service" in airing the abortion issue, a woman's group attacked the conference.

Miss Ti-Grace Atkinson, representing the National Organization for Women which she says has 3,000 members, told reporters the conference was "an outrage against women," and had "shown the greatest contempt" by, she said, constantly ignoring them in the conference.

She said conference panels were heavily weighted with Roman Catholics and conservatives, groups strongly opposed to abortion.

"It's the thinnest smokescreen for the opponents of abortion," she said, "and it was planned by the Catholic Church or the Kennedy Foundation in its religious capacity."

The Kennedy's are Catholic and Mrs. Sargent Shriver, sister of the late President John F. Kennedy, a hard worker in the field of mental retardation, is executive vice president of the Kennedy Foundation, and was a prime conference promoter.

Mrs. Shriver said Friday that establishing boards to pass on

Support Men

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan has endorsed a call for nationwide parades and ceremonies in support of American fighting men in Vietnam, it was disclosed today.

He said persons wishing to parade the weekend of Oct. 21-22 to back U.S. troops should be encouraged.

Romney became the 28th governor to support the demonstrations urged by the National Committee for Responsible Patriotism, a group which evolved from the huge May 13 parade down Fifth Avenue to "support our boys in Vietnam."

Romney, who has been advised by a home state newspaper to abandon his presidential ambitions, told a news conference this was what he had in mind when he said earlier in the week he had been "brainwashed" in a 1965 visit to Vietnam with other governors.

Saying that he would use the term again, Romney said what he meant was not the Russian type of brainwashing but what he called a "snow job" by the President and his representatives in Vietnam.

The Michigan governor, here for a meeting of the Republican National Committee, said the American people are "shocked" that they can no longer rely on their own government to give them facts about Vietnam.

Romney dismissed as of no lasting significance an editorial to be published by the Detroit News suggested that he had zigzagged too much on Vietnam and other foreign policies that he should withdraw from consideration for the nomination and support New York Gov.

Hurricane Kills 13; Now Menaces Haiti

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Beulah, killing at least 13 persons on the French island of Martinique, roared on with steadily increasing fury today toward Haiti and the Dominican Republic.

Homes were destroyed, flood waters poured three feet deep down streets in Fort de France, and banana crops were flattened as Beulah roared across

Martinique. Her winds were up to 100 miles an hour and building as the storm thrashed on a west-northwest course across the Caribbean. Great danger was posed to the vulnerable south coast of Hispaniola, where many hurricanes of the past have piled up heavy death tolls. Beulah was centered at latitude 15.6 north, longitude 65.0

west, about 200 miles southeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico. From the eye, gale winds crashed outward 125 miles in all directions.

A hurricane watch went into effect for all of Hispaniola and the Weather Bureau said definite hurricane warnings would go up later today for the island embracing Haiti and the Dominican Republic.

Far behind Beulah in the turbulent tropical Atlantic, tropical storm Chloe churned the waters with 50-mile an hour winds, but offered no immediate threat to any land area.

And off the Florida east coast, a tropical depression kicked up rough seas that kept small craft in port in Florida and the northern Bahamas.

Five children were among the victims as Beulah lashed Martinique with torrential rain. Officials said over 100 families were left homeless by the deluge.

At the time, she appeared to be heading on a path that would have brought her dangerously close to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. But a later Weather Bureau advisory pointed her at Hispaniola.

Puerto Rico braced for gale winds, however. The hurricane was predicted to pass about 100 miles south of the city of Ponce, which would subject the south coast to a gusty blow and rough seas.

Surveyor 5 Has Gas Leak, Could Smash On Moon

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists reached more than 100,000 miles into space by remote control early today, trying to plug a helium gas valve leak that threatened to cause America's Surveyor 5 to smash into the moon.

"The mission is in danger," said a spokesman at Pasadena's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, where scientists delicately and desperately worked against the clock to close the helium valve.

"If the leak doesn't stop, the craft can't soft land on the moon," the spokesman explained. "If it can't soft land, its soil-testing equipment and camera will be destroyed."

Scientists may nudge the 2,200-pound space craft into an orbit around the earth, they said, if the leak can't be plugged. Computers tried to determine alternative plans and the speed with which the helium was leaking.

The leakage developed after a routine midcourse correction was ordered, requiring the craft's three liquid fuel engines to be fired.

The spacecraft had been due to land on the moon—221,575 miles from earth—Sunday afternoon.

"Orbiting the spacecraft around the earth would save the spacecraft—but we wouldn't have any hope of ever getting it to the moon," the spokesman said.

He said its cameras might be of some use in taking earth photographs, but its soil-testing equipment would be wasted.

Scientists said the helium tank's valve must be closed to preserve the helium, required to pressurize the liquid fuel in the spacecraft's three control rockets.

Without the control rockets, which would slow the spacecraft to a landing of 10 miles an hour or less, the vehicle would plummet at high speed into the lunar surface.

Says Michigan Governor Goofs On War Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — A home state newspaper's suggestion that Michigan Gov. George Romney get out of the way appeared to project New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller into the middle of the contest for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination.

In an unprecedented home base blast at a presidential hopeful, The Detroit News said in an editorial to be published Sunday that Romney's "blunt and retreat habit" of dealing with Vietnam and other foreign problems disqualified him from seeking the presidency. The News said Rockefeller, who has disclaimed any further presidential ambitions, "knows what he believes and has the capacity to express his convictions" and should be brought into the picture.

"Very Amusing" Romney, who had no advance warning of this blast from a newspaper which has been one of his staunchest backers in three successful campaigns for governor, called the editorial "very amusing."

But his aides were not at all amused by this erosion of Michigan support for his as-yet unannounced bid for the 1968 GOP nomination.

They said privately, and some members of the Republican National Committee commented publicly, that this was a body blow that Romney's aspirations might not survive.

Rockefeller publicly discounted the impact of the editorial. He said in a statement: "I have supported Gov. Romney in the past and I will continue to support Gov. Romney in the future. I repeat, under no circumstances will I be a candidate."

Almost no member of the Republican National Committee, winding up a two-day campaign planning session here today, felt Rockefeller would not make himself available if circumstances seemed to dictate this would be the most available way to get a moderate Republican nominee.

Rocky-Reason Talk Edward G. Janeway, Vermont national committeeman, told a reporter: "All of the East is talking about Rockefeller as the candidate." He said there is a great deal of discussion of a ticket made up of Rockefeller and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

The Detroit News editorial was being classed with the Scripps-Howard editorial in 1952 which said after the nomination of Dwight D. Eisenhower that he was "running like a dry creek."

This forced the Morningside conference in New York City at which Eisenhower agreed to Sen. Robert A. Taft's statement of principles which brought dissident conservatives back into the party.

Call To Moderates The News editorial was cast as a call to moderate Republicans to get behind Rockefeller as their candidate most likely to win the nomination.

The Detroit newspaper said it was moved to speak out by Romney's charges that he had been "brainwashed" by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, a Republican, and the U.S. military leaders when he visited Vietnam in 1965 with a delegation of governors.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara replied Thursday that Romney would not recognize the truth when he saw it. Republican, as well as Democratic governors on the trip denied they had been sold a bill of goods.

Backed Johnson The News supported Romney in three successful campaigns for governor but backed President Johnson in 1964 over Sen. Barry Goldwater. When Romney was spoken of as a dark-horse presidential candidate in 1964, the News urged him to forswear any presidential ambitions, saying he had a lot of work to do as governor. Detroit's other daily, the Free Press, said in an editorial today that Romney had "used a poor choice of words" in the brainwashing statement, but it urged

Ruppe Doubts Surcharge Will Be Ten Per Cent

ISHPEMING—Congressman Philip E. Ruppe (R-Houghton) doesn't believe Congress will enact the 10 per cent surcharge on federal income taxes that President Johnson has requested.

He told an audience of about 200 in the Mather Inn here Friday afternoon that, if any surcharge is approved, he believes it will be between six and eight per cent instead of the 10 per cent the President wants. Ruppe said he thinks Johnson asked for 10 per cent to leave himself room to settle for a lower compromise figure.

The Upper Peninsula representative, who is winding up a two-day tour of Marquette County today, was the honor guest at a luncheon meeting arranged here by Citizens for Ruppe under the chairmanship of Sam Conodas, Ishpeming financier. W. H. Treloar, Marquette, publisher of the Panax newspapers in the Upper Peninsula, was toastmaster.

Ruppe sketched his impressions of the mood of Congress and then opened the meeting to questions from the audience. The largest portion of his remarks were directed at economic problems, particularly the proposed surcharge.

The congressman said that, although the national economy shows signs of vigor, "there are a lot of spotty areas." And because the upturn hasn't been general, many officials "are not prepared to take that $6 to $8 billion (that the surcharge would produce) out of the economy."

Ever since Johnson proposed the surcharge, Ruppe said, the mood of Congress has changed to one of caution in appropriations matters. The public, he said, is worried about growing inflation and government spending.

"I think a lot of people in business would support a tax increase if it were accompanied by a cut in government spending and a check on inflation," the speaker said.

Turning to the war in Vietnam, Ruppe said he thinks the people tend to ignore some of the areas in Southeast Asia in which democratic forces have made progress. He cited Thailand, a nation of 30 million that is strongly pro-American and anti-Communist, and said the American effort in Vietnam "was certainly responsible for the stiffening of the backbone of Indonesia that resulted in kicking Sukarno out of power."

"I think our military forces have done a tremendous job in knocking out the North Vietnamese wherever we've found them," Ruppe said. "The question is how the South Vietnamese will knock out the guerrillas. Perhaps this will be done following the recent elections. This is an area in which the South Vietnamese must help themselves."

Ruppe said he agreed with the position taken publicly recently by House Minority Leader Gerald Ford (R-Mich.) calling for American forces to hit every target in North Vietnam. "We've got to use our technical superiority in every area in which we think it's necessary," he declared.

The congressman said he voted against the administration's rat control bill for several reasons, principally because nine agencies other than the Department of Housing and Urban Development "already were in the rat control business." The bill, which was defeated, would have allocated $40 million to HUD over a two-year period for use in controlling rats in slum areas.

In reply to a question from the floor, Ruppe said, "The Mackinac Bridge tolls are both an economic and a political problem."

Two possible sources of federal aid to reduce or eliminate the tolls apparently have been exhausted, according to Ruppe. One of these is the Interstate Highway Act of 1956, which posed the question of what was to be done about financing bridges, tunnels, etc. that became part of the interstate system. Ruppe said the late Senator Patrick McNamara (D-Mich.), chairman of the committee responsible for the measure, took the position that new road projects should be completed before bridges on which construction began before 1956 were included in the program.

The other potential source of aid mentioned by Ruppe was the Great Lakes Development Commission's budget. He said it had been hoped that appropriations would be included in the commission's 1968 budget for funds to reduce or remove the Mackinac Bridge tolls, but "unfortunately it got bogged down in politics," Ruppe said. All three governors serving on the commission are Republican and the opposition party "isn't too keen on seeing the commission succeed."

He criticized "our senator from Ironwood" (Joseph Mack, Democrat) for failing to vote on a measure in the State Senate that called for reducing Mackinac Bridge tolls.

Ruppe pointed out that Gov. George Romney "has promised that he will veto any new roads tax that does not include a reduction in the Mackinac Bridge tolls."

Board To Meet To Cut Budget

The Escanaba Area Board of Education, facing a deficit estimated at about $165,000 from its 1967-68 budget proposals for operation of the Escanaba Area schools, will consider cutbacks in expenses Tuesday at its regular 8 p.m. meeting at the school administration building.

The deficit is anticipated because of the recent defeat of a request for five additional mills of local property tax revenue for school operation.

If approved, the tax would have raised about $280,000 per year.

The Board had previously approved a tentative operating budget of $2,436,000. Revenues for the year are expected to be about $2,217,000 and coupled with a surplus of some $50,000 from 1966-67 operations leave a deficit of about $165,000.

In conjunction with the budget cuts, the Board will also hold a public hearing on the 1967-68 budget prior to formal adoption.

Also to be considered Tuesday are salaries for school principals and other administrative salaries, plus several other items on the agenda.

League Honors Vanlerberghe

Escanaba Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe was recognized by the Michigan Municipal League at its annual meeting which concluded today at Mackinac Island.

The League awarded Mayor Vanlerberghe a special "award of merit" on Friday at the program held in the Grand Hotel.

Mayor Vanlerberghe participated in one of the League programs, serving as a panelist in a discussion of the topic "Tips for Mayors and Councilmen—Old and New."

Attending the League conference from Escanaba are the city councilmen, the city manager, administrative assistant, and city clerk.

Area Enrollment Rises By 120

Enrollment in the Escanaba Area school system — already the highest in any Upper Peninsula district — climbed another 120 students last week as school opened for the 1967-68 year.

Classroom count totaled 4,550 students in the district's 10 elementary schools, junior high and senior high school.

A year ago, enrollment of the district was 4,430.

The high school total jumped to 1,369 students, an increase of about 85 to 90 from last year. There are 713 in the junior high.

Largest class is the kindergarten, which has 470 students. The number, however, will drop when the class moves into the first grade as some students will transfer into Catholic schools where no kindergarten program is operated.

By grades, the 9th is the largest with 378 students. The senior class is the smallest with only 285.

Other counts by grades are:

1st — 350; 2nd — 341; 3rd — 306; 4th — 354; 5th — 288; 6th — 329; 7th — 341; 8th — 360; 10th — 339; and 11th — 367.

In addition, there are 42 special education students in the system.

Enrollments by school are: Lemmer 548; Jefferson 222; Ford River 214; Pine Ridge 77; Wells 277; Webster 331; Washington 239; Soo Hill 239; Cornell 61; Franklin 260; Junior High 713; Senior High 1,369.

School officials said the figures do not include absentees, but that they represent a close estimate of the number of students enrolled because absentees during the first week generally average only five or six.

Airport Development Is Back On Schedule

By CLINT DUNATHAN

Escanaba's airport development project, threatened by a cut in federal funds, is hopefully back on the beam again with reinstatement of the project and anticipated federal participation of $200,000. That figure compares to $64,600 which the city had protested as totally inadequate.

The $200,000 federal funding will with state and local participation construct an extension from 5,000 to 6,400 feet at the west end of the east-west runway. This will be sufficient in length to accommodate the large 100-passenger DC-9 jets which North Central Airlines has on route segments outside the Upper Peninsula.

The project includes (besides the extension) the marking and lighting of the runway; and (hopefully in project reinstatement) the construction of the apron and taxiway which is essential to the project but had been deleted at the federal level.

C. L. Andrews, assistant director of the Michigan Aeronautics Commission, and other members of the Commission staff and a representative of the Federal Aviation Agency, met with representatives of the City of Escanaba and its consultants on Friday in expediting the project.

"The basic problem right now is one of time," he said. "We are under a deadline from the FAA to get the project going, and we have to set up a going date for each phase of the job."

The preliminary plans for the runway extension, taxiway and apron project are to be completed by Nov. 1, and final plans by Dec. 1, 1967.

The project specifications will thereafter go to the FAA and with Feb. 15 the date for asking bids. Bid opening is set for March 10, 1968.

New Master Plan
Contracts for the runway extension should be let by April 10, construction should be started by May 15, 1968.

The federal funds will meet about 40 per cent of the total cost, the state participation will be about 30 and the city's share about 30 per cent. The city will also obtain certain easements necessary in the project and gain from the County Road Commission the closing of a gravel road at the west end of the airport.

Wayne Colby, assistant deputy director of the Aeronautics Commission, said that a new master plan for the airport development is to be prepared and will be submitted for approval and adoption by Oct. 15.

The master plan shows the removal of the present north-south airport to the west where there is ample open area to extend it for effective future use.

Andrews noted that Michigan was allocated $1,525,220 in federal funds for airport development projects on a matching basis for 1968.

Funds Controlled
The requests are always way over and beyond the allocations, and each project is examined in effort to bring it into line with available funds, said James F. Popp, FAA district engineer.

The Escanaba project was not the only one to be scaled down to fit the purse strings. So also were those at Iron Mountain and Marquette, he reported. Marquette requested $526,650 and got $433,600—sufficient to extend the runway to 6,500 feet for jet service. Rocky terrain will make the Marquette project comparatively costly.

The Iron Mountain project, to extend the principal runway to 6,500 feet, received an allocation of $174,750. The request was for $249,750. The extension and other work is to be completed by Dec. 31, 1967, as at Escanaba, said Popp.

Terminal Building
There is no question about which of the three airports will serve the DC-9's, Andrews said. "All three will be developed to meet the standards required for DC-9 use."

Michigan Aeronautics Commission assistance (but no federal funding) will help finance the proposed new relocated terminal building at the Escanaba airport. This will be a separate project, costing an

The Delta County Flying Club became airborne Friday with the purchase of a PA22 Piper Tri-Pacer four-place aircraft.

The plane is in good condition with new fabric covering and reconditioned engine.

Among many new non-fiction books recently added to the collection at the Escanaba Public Library are:

Adler - "The Washington Wits." Tales and anecdotes of Washington dignitaries, such as the Kennedys and Vice President Humphrey.

Boyd - "Free to Live, Free to Die." A collection of "secular meditations" for "young prophets."

Clarens - "Illustrated History of the Horror Films." Traces the evolution of the horror film starting with the fantasies of George Melies and ending with Francois Truffaut's "Fahrenheit 451."

Clark - "The Stone-Age Hunters." Art of primitive cultures.

Elon - "Journey Through a Hunted Land." An Israeli journalist on post-war Germany.

Halasz - "A Swinger's Guide to London."

White - "The Worldliness of Worship." Forms and substance of public worship and its relevance to life.

Winter - "Women at Work." A guide to earning a good living.

Flying Club President Donald Breault said the Delta County organization is being patterned after the Marquette County Flying Club and is in the process of being incorporated as a non-profit corporation. Purpose of the club is to provide for its members a convenient means for flying at the most economical rates.

The club is open to solo students as well as pilots with private or better certificates.

A complete set of safety and operating rules is in effect and the club has purchased an insurance policy covering the aircraft and public liability and property damage.

The plane will be located in the T-hanger at the Escanaba Municipal Airport.

Persons wishing more information about the club or wishing to join should contact Breault at 786-2904 or Henry VanBrussel, secretary-treasurer at 786-2662, or at home, 786-7327.

Iron Ore Loading Breaks Records At Marquette

MARQUETTE — This is a year for iron ore shipping records. They're being made about as fast as ore is tumbling down pockets at Marquette's two big docks.

During August, over a million tons of pelletized and raw ore were shipped from the Presque Isle and Marquette Harbors. This is the fourth straight million-ton month here.

If the tempo of shipping continues at its present pace, this year could top last season's all-time record of 7.1 million tons. In 1965, 6.3 million tons were shipped, and the 1964 total was 6.9 million tons.

Most People Can Be Blood Donors Still At Large

There are relatively few people between ages 18 and 60 who cannot meet the American Red Cross blood donor requirements. The bloodmobile will be in Delta County on Sept. 11, 12 and 13 and donors are needed to meet the county's quota and keep its membership in the Badger Blood Bank that supports the James T. Jones School in Gladstone on Monday from 3 to 7 p.m.; and will then move to the Teamsters Hall in Escanaba on Tuesday from 2:30 to 7:30 and on Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

To meet the donor requirements the donor must be not less than 18 nor more than 60; weigh not less than 110 pounds; and not have a severe cold, stomach flu, headache, extreme fatigue, etc.

He may not have a chronic illness such as severe diabetes, active TB, or serious cardiac condition; nor have had a recent operation or be recovering during a prolonged convalescence. Women who have been pregnant within the past 12 months may not be accepted.

Any history of jaundice (hepatitis) is cause for rejection; persons with acute allergies such as hives, hay fever, etc.; and those who have been immunized for small pox or yellow fever may not give blood for two weeks, not for 24 hours after other immunizations.

Penicillin or antibiotic injections make the individual unsuitable as a donor for 72 hours. Persons who are in doubt whether they should be donors are advised to consult the physician who will be in attendance at the clinic.

Croatian Union Convention Set

Miss Mary Miketnac of Hermansville will be attending the Croatian Fraternal Union convention at Pittsburgh Sept. 18-23.

Miss Miketnac will be a delegate representing the lodges of Hermansville, Painesdale and Kipling. She is secretary of the Holy Cross Lodge here. The convention activities will be held on the 17th floor of the Penn-Sheraton Hotel in Pittsburgh.

Previous delegates from Hermansville included her father, Stephen J. Miketnac, 1911 at Kansas City; Joseph Rodman, Sr., Pittsburgh, 1924; Ivan Kobasic, Cleveland, 1928; Frank Posig, Pittsburgh, 1947.

Delegates to the convention will attend the CFU's West Pennsylvania United Lodges welcoming fete at Etna, Pa., on Sept. 17 and on Sept. 20 David Maxwell, Pennsylvania's insurance commissioner will address the convention banquet.

him to "exploit the credibility issue."

"The paper, which has opposed U.S. policy in Vietnam, said 'much of what the Johnson administration told Gov. Romney about Vietnam must have been hogwash, because much of what it has told the American people has been hogwash.'"

Puzzled By Shifts

The News said while Romney had been the "ablest Michigan governor in four decades," it had puzzled for months over his "inexplicable blurt and retreat habit in the unfamiliar realms of national and foreign affairs."

"Patiently we awaited the day when he finally would organize and coordinate a purposeful campaign and articulate specific goals," the editorial said. "We now conclude that he never will become so organized."

"The accumulated evidence leading to this conclusion was climaxed last week when Romney said in a TV interview that he came home from Vietnam in 1965 calling for support of the war effort only because he had been 'brainwashed' by American diplomats and generals."

"To the News the statement illustrated to a nicety Gov. Romney's unfortunate incapacity to achieve stability and constancy in answering substantive national questions with something other than nervous bombast."

Urea Helps Cut Dairy Ration Cost

There is no problem in feeding urea when the product is thoroughly mixed in silage feed and the cattle are gradually adapted to the feed containing urea, says J. L. Heirman, Delta County agricultural agent.

Hundreds of farmers added urea to corn silage in 1966 and some farmers have used it for four years in Michigan. Records in Lapeer County show it saved as much as 10 per cent in feed costs. Don't use more than 10 pounds of urea per ton of silage, say livestock diet specialists.

Delegates to the convention will attend the CFU's West Pennsylvania United Lodges welcoming fete at Etna, Pa., on Sept. 17 and on Sept. 20 David Maxwell, Pennsylvania's insurance commissioner will address the convention banquet.

Other delegates from the Upper Peninsula include Mrs. Leona Erickson, Wells and Anthony Shubat, Stambaugh.

How To Survive Harvest Time

Farm accident hazards are numerous during corn silage harvesting time. Being "in a hurry" brings about many lax moments that cause injuries, says J. L. Heirman, Delta County agricultural agent.

He urges for safety not leaving the chopper run when the farmer gets off the unit, careful travel on highways with tractor-drawn wagons, making sure the new SMV emblem is clean and properly mounted, and checking power take-off guards and around gears near the elevator boot.

Nelson A. Rockefeller.

The newspaper criticized what it called Romney's "blurt and retreat habit of dealing with Vietnam and other problems."

Although he has not officially announced his candidacy, Romney said he won't withdraw from the pre-convention political maneuvering.

Asked if he would support Rockefeller if he thought the New York governor had more backing within the party than he, Romney said that this would depend on factors at the time.

He said Rockefeller had assured him privately that he has no intention of becoming a candidate. He said he takes Rockefeller at his word.

Romney insisted that he has not changed his position on Vietnam. He said it remains exactly the same as it was in an April 7, 1967 speech in Hartford, Conn., in which he said among other things that it would be "unthinkable" that the United States would withdraw from Vietnam.

Nancy Weldum Returns From State 4-H Trip

Nancy Weldum of Rock was one of two young people from the Upper Peninsula to receive a State 4-H Educational Award trip to Chicago last week. She received her trip for being a regional winner for National 4-H Conference competition at the State 4-H Show in East Lansing.

Jean Davis of Crystal Falls, was a state demonstration winner and Floyd Roberts, Rapid River, was the U. P. chapone. The Upper Peninsula group left on Tuesday, Aug. 28 by train and returned Sunday morning, Sept. 3.

The delegation stayed at the Conrad-Hilton Hotel in downtown Chicago. Some of their activities included a trip to the Observation Deck, at the top of the 41 story Prudential building; Grant Park and the Buckingham Fountain, Federal Reserve Bank, Marshall Fields Department store, including a viewing of how they make and test their products; subway, elevated and city bus tours of Chicago.

Chicago Transit Authority headquarters; China Town, Marina City; Merchandise Mart; Roosevelt University; Adler Planetarium; Shedd Aquarium; Fields Museum of Natural History; Museum of Science and Industry, where they boarded a German submarine captured during World War II and saw a film on its capture.

Tour of "Old Town"; dinner at the Candlelight Theater where they saw the stage play "Barefoot in the Park"; meeting the Chicago 4-H'ers who escorted them Wednesday.

"At first it seemed so huge and there were so many people," says Nancy, "but after awhile, one gets used to it. It certainly is different than living in a small community like Rock. It was very interesting and educational, and after a trip such as this, I would feel much more confident if I had to go to a city on my own."

Car Hits Pole; Driver Is Hurt

Trophy Sailing Race Delayed By High Winds

Seagull class sailing races for the Henes Trophy and the Green Bay championship, scheduled today, were delayed because of the strong north winds.

The Henes Trophy was won last year by Bill Boyce of the Escanaba Yacht Club.

Skippers in the match races for the trophy this year are Atty. Dean Shipman, Escanaba, and James Nylund, Menominee businessman.

Walter Zimmerman, the EYC's race committee chairman, said the races might have to be rescheduled for next weekend.

Former Deltas Gather On Coast

An organizational meeting was recently held at Knott's Berry Farm, Buena Park, Calif., of about 25 former residents of Delta County. The purpose of the meeting was threefold: renewal of acquaintanceships, consolidation of names and addresses for a directory and planning of events like picnics, dances, parties, campouts, etc. Anyone in Delta County knowing the names and addresses of any former residents now residing in Southern California are asked to contact Roy M. Ingals, 317 E. Chestnut, Santa Ana, Calif., 92701.

Cowman Pitches Emeralds To Great Lakes Football Victory Over Blue Devils

By RAY CRANDALL
(Press Sports Editor)

MANISTIQUE—The sport is football, but the Soo Blue Devils got a first hand look at one of the finest pitching arms in the Upper Peninsula when they took a 27-12 Great Lakes Conference licking from the Manistique Emeralds here Friday night.

Bob Cowman, 6 foot 1 inch, 180 pound senior quarterback in Coach Rick Larson's Green and White crew, picked apart the Soo defenses with a deadly southpaw bombardment.

Cowman shook the Blue Devils with long bombs of up to 50 yards in the air and then closed up the defenses with accurate short pitches. Cowman threw 14 passes in the game and completed nine for 194 yards and three touchdowns.

Sample Top Catcher
Gary Sample, long-legged left end, was on the receiving end of five tosses and gained 119 yards while scoring one touchdown. With Soo's defensive backs in a state of panic every time Sample hoofed goalward, Cowman switched his sights to right end Phil Nelson who hauled in two touchdowns heaves covering 53 and 31 yards.

Blended with the awesome air attack was a solid Emerald running game geared on tough little halfback Larry Roberts who lugged the ball 12 times for 109 yards.

In all, the Emeralds gained 157 yards rushing and 229 passing. Soo picked up 154 on the ground and 58 through the air lanes.

In order, here's how the Emeralds' dented Soo's goal line:

Manistique TD's
In the second period Cowman hit Sample with a 35 yard strike in the end zone and Roberts ran the extra point.

In the third period Cowman lofted a bomb to Nelson for a 53 yard TD and Terry Popour went in for the extra point.

Early in the fourth quarter defensive back Paul Demers grabbed a Soo punt and raced 31 yards to paydirt.

Midway in the final period Cowman connected with Nelson on a 33 yard payoff pitch and Roberts tacked on the extra point.

Soo also scored twice through the air with quarterback Dave Bryers throwing to end Bob Fabricino for six yards in the third period and to halfback Mac Finlayson for 17 yards in the final frame.

Manistique Next
Although the Emerald defense allowed Soo big chunks of real estate in midfield, it tightened up in the clutch and held off every Blue Devil scoring threat on the ground. Ole Shandler was a big factor in the Manistique defense along with Ryan Chartier and Allan Schnurer who recovered an enemy fumble to stymie an early Soo drive.

The Manistique reserves got a solid workout in the fourth quarter with Demers running the show. Mike Tufnell and Bob Males teamed up with Demers on a sustained drive that was halted when a Demers pass was intercepted by Allan Sepala on the Blue Devil five yard stripe.

With two straight Great Lakes Conference victories under their belts, the Emeralds will make their next start on the road, invading Munising Saturday afternoon.

Lions Swipe Five Passes

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Detroit Lions gave St. Louis the blues as they stole five passes and a National Football League game.

The match didn't do much to solve the problem of who's going to be No. 1 quarterback for the Lions, but it did show that the Lions can win in the NFL as they clipped the Cardinals 21-7 Friday night.

Karl Sweetan started and brought the Lions to a 7-7 tie with a 34-yard scoring toss to John Henderson.

In the second half, Milt Plum set up the second with a 24-yard pass to Pat Studstill to the Cardinal three. Mel Farr scored from there.

Then Tim Van Galder of St. Louis threw a pass and Tommy Vaughn picked it off at the Cardinal 45 and raced all the way to paydirt.

Farr was the leading ground gainer for both clubs with 45 yards in 17 carries. Johnny Roland led St. Louis with 32 yards in nine carries.

The game started badly for the Lions. The first time the Cardinals got the ball they drove 56 yards in six plays with Will Crenshaw scoring from the one.

Quarterback Jim Hart hit Jackie Smith for 22 yards and Charlie Bryant ran 21 yards in the drive.

Sweetan evened things with a drive that went 71 yards in 11 plays.

The Lions blew numerous opportunities. One pass interception put them deep in Cardinal territory, but Sweetan couldn't move the ball and Wayne Walker missed a field goal.

Another interception for an apparent TD was called back on a penalty. Tommy Watkins returned a punt 19 yards to the Cardinal 19, but a pass interception killed that threat.

Watkins set up the second Lion touchdown with a 26-yard punt return to the Cardinal 35.

St. Louis led in rushing yardage, 104 to 95 and in passing yardage, 124 to 94. Sweetan hit on five of 16 passes for 62 yards and one touchdown. He had one intercepted.

Plum managed four of 10 passes for 32 yards and a touchdown. None was intercepted.

Bastien Lands Red Wing Job

DETROIT (AP)—Baz Bastien general manager and coach of the Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League last season, has been named a top aide to Sid Abel, general manager and coach of the National Hockey League Detroit Red Wings.

Bastien will assist Abel in running the affairs of the Detroit club and will also serve as the team's chief trouble shooter throughout the organization, the club said Friday.

Bastien, 47, guided the Wings' top farm club at Pittsburgh to dual titles in the AHL last season. The Hornets captured the Western Division championship and then the Calder Cup playoff crown.

Red Wings Captain Alex Delvecchio, second highest scoring Red Wing of all time, signed his 1967-68 contract with the team Friday. Delvecchio, 35, scored only two goals in goals scored for the team, signed for an undisclosed amount.

Doug Roberts, 24, a graduate of Michigan State University and Detroit Cooley High School, also was signed by the Wings for the coming season.

Sports In Brief

CHICAGO (AP) — Midwest football briefs:

Illinois—Coach Jim Valek prepared his players for a gametype scrimmage today. Tackle Willis Fields, center Herschel Johnson and linebacker Jeff Tringer joined 11 other Illinois players whose minor ills will not permit them to play.

Minnesota — First team linebacker Dennis Cornell re-injured his knee. The team will go through its first scrimmage of the training session today.

Northwestern — The passing attack was emphasized in workouts preparing the Wildcats for a scrimmage today.

Iowa—Punting and punt coverage received the most attention. Coach Ray Nagel cut drills short in preparation for today's closed-door scrimmage.

Ohio State — Coach Woody Hayes put his players through a review of 15 running plays and 11 passing combinations used during the first four days of practice.

Wisconsin—No. 1 quarterback John Ryan worked without pads and was still feeling the effects of a shoulder injury. The Badgers held light drills in preparation for today's full scrimmage.

Indiana — Greg Phaxton, a high school sprinter, was shifted to the No. 2 halfback spot in hopes his speed will help the offense.

Purdue — Mike Englebrecht, top candidate to succeed quarterback Bob Griese, has a sore shoulder on his passing side and was given an indefinite rest period.

Detroit Regains First Place Tie

CHICAGO (AP) — Detroit southpaw Mickey Lolich, going strong after shaking off a 10-game losing streak, handcuffed the Chicago White Sox Friday night and sent the Tigers into a first-place deadlock in the ever-changing American League race with a 4-1 victory.

It was Lolich's fifth straight win.

Lolich, who aided his own cause with a bunt which brought home an unearned run in the seventh, pitched a near flawless game before being taken out in the eighth after the Sox scored their only run.

Detroit Manager Mayo Smith said after the game that Lolich is a better pitcher than his 10-12 record indicates.

"He was 5-2 when he started that losing streak," said Smith. "He was hard hit in only two of the games and in the others we just didn't give him the runs."

"Two weeks of National Guard camp and a week of riot duty also didn't help him," Smith added, "but he's coming around now."

Despite the fact that they had moved back into the top spot for the first time since June 10—they are tied with Minnesota—Detroit players were quiet and calm in the dressing room. Smith said they were just playing a game at a time.

White Sox Manager Eddie Stanky also praised Lolich, but he added that his players will bounce back.

"It's still a long time until the race is over," he said.

Stanky looking toward today's single game and Sunday's doubleheader said he will start Gary Peters (15-9) today then follow up with Joe Horlen (15-6) and Cisco Carlos (0-0). Smith will go with John Hiller (4-1), Joe Sparrano (14-8) and Denny McLain (17-15).

Eddie Mathews led the Tigers' assault in the second inning by smashing the 508th homer of his career. His blast off Tommy John, who was tagged with the loss, was Mathews' fifth since joining the Tigers late in August. It boosted the former National League star to within three homers of the 511 posted by Mel Ott for sixth place on the list of all-time home run hitters.

The Tigers, striving for their first pennant in 22 years, took advantage of errors in the sixth and seventh innings.

In the sixth, Ken Boyer fumbled Al Kaline's two-out grounder. And after Willie Horton was hit by a pitch, Bill Freehan brought Kaline across with a single to left field.

In the seventh, Pete Ward dropped Mickey Stanley's routine fly ball and Stanley raced to second base. Ray Oyler bunted Stanley to third and Lolich brought the centerfielder home with a squeeze bunt.

Reserve leftfielder Jim Northrup smacked his seventh homer of the season off Don McMahon in the eighth inning. McMahon had replaced John after the White Sox starter was lifted for a pinch hitter in the sixth.

Tommy McCraw singled and scored Chicago's only run in the eighth after Tommy Agee and Ken Boyer lashed one-runers. After the Sox scored, with two out, Fred Lasher replaced Lolich on the mound. Lasher got Ward on an infield grounder and finished up in the ninth, earning his sixth save in nine relief performances.

Birthdays
EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State's football practice was interrupted Friday as players carried out a birthday cake for Coach Duffy Daugherty.

Daugherty didn't let his players eat cake, however, saving it for the training table supper later.

Daugherty, who admitted to 28 years, told his players not to make any mistakes "because if you get mad on your birthday, you're mad all year long."

The Spartan coach observed he had been at Michigan State 21 years, more than the age of most of his footballers.

The workouts concentrated mostly on the kicking game. Steve Garvey and Mitch Pruiett shared the kickoff chores and halfback Frank Waters and fullback Lamarr Thomas were the two deep receivers.

Giants Capture No. 2 Place In National League

By The Associated Press
Nobody likes to be second best but it'll do just fine for one of five teams in the National League's September struggle.

Just five games separate five clubs who hope to play bridesmaid to St. Louis this season. The Cardinals, headed for the pennant, hold a commanding 10½ game lead but after that it's an oldtime National League scramble.

In the second place showdown game Friday night, San Francisco trimmed Chicago 4-3 and took the lead in the runner-up derby.

Pittsburgh went 10 innings before edging the first-place Cardinals 4-3. Philadelphia dropped Atlanta 4-1. Cincinnati split with New York, winning 3-0 before losing 5-4, and Los Angeles topped Houston 4-2.

The Giants were trailing the Cubs 3-2 with two out in the bottom of the ninth. But Jimmy Davenport's pinch triple drove home Jim Hart with the tying run and then pitcher Ray Sadecki singled Davenport across with the winner for the Giants.

seventh straight victory. Hart had doubled and tripled, scoring each of the Giants' first two runs against Joe Niekro.

Sadecki allowed six hits and all the Cubs' runs in the first three innings and then settled down, permitting just two hits the rest of the way.

The victory put the Giants a full game up on the Cubs and 1½ in front of fourth-place Cincinnati. The Reds got a sharp two-hitter from Mel Queen, who shut out the Mets in the first game. But rookie Tom Seaver beat Cincinnati in the nightcap.

Seaver got late-inning help from Ron Taylor and recorded his 13th victory, tying the Met club record set by Al Jackson in 1963. Tony Perez and Vada Pinson homered for the Reds.

Philadelphia, in fifth place, is four games back of the Giants, after beating Atlanta and dropping the sixth-place Braves five games back.

Rick Wise hurled a four-hitter for his first career victory over the Braves and Bill White's bases-loaded single keyed a three-run Phillie first. Joe Torre homered for Atlanta.

Gene Alley tripled, opening the 10th inning for Pittsburgh, and then scored on Maury Wills' single as the pirates edged the Cardinals. It was only the third loss in the last 10 games for St. Louis and all of them have been against Pittsburgh.

Alley's two-out, hit-and-run double had scored Roberto Clemente with the tying run in the eighth for the Pirates.

Ron Fairly cracked a two-out, two-run homer in the bottom of the eighth inning as Los Angeles tagged Houston with its ninth straight loss. Jimmy Wynn homered for the Astros.

Houston's loss and the Mets' split left the gap between the first two clubs at just one-half game.

Bill Gunville was reelected president of the Red Buck Archery Club for the 1968 season.

The Red Buck archers will stage a broadhead invitational shoot Sept. 24.

Sport Short

In his first two years at West Point, Ohio coach of Dayton, Ohio has caught 34 passes for 329 yards. He played end as a sophomore but Coach Tom Cahill moved him to halfback last season.

Billy Monbo Returns To Haunt Ex-Buddies

By The Associated Press
Bill Monbouquette doesn't hold a grudge against the Boston Red Sox. He just pitches that way.

Monbouquette, traded away by the Red Sox last season and ignored by them when he was released by Detroit this season, hurled the New York Yankees to a 5-2 victory over his former teammates Friday night, preventing them from taking over first place in the American League.

That spot went to both Detroit, conqueror of Chicago by a 4-1 count, and Minnesota, which split a doubleheader with Baltimore, 7-2 and 3-5. The Red Sox are in third place, half a game out, and the White Sox are a full game off the pace.

"I think it only natural to get satisfaction in beating a team which lets you go," Monbouquette said after the game. "Don't get me wrong, though, I hope the Red Sox win the pennant. I have a lot of friends on the club."

The 31-year-old right-hander has pitched brilliantly for the Yankees, the only team that would take a chance on him when the Tigers cut him loose earlier in the season.

Against the Red Sox, he allowed eight hits and struck out four before leaving the game in the seventh. Just to rub it in, he singled twice and scored a run.

In other American League action Friday, Cleveland topped Kansas City 6-3 and California blanked Washington 4-0.

The Tigers climbed into the first-place tie on the strength of homers by Eddie Mathews and Jim Northrup and fine pitching by Mickey Lolich, who got relief help from Fred Lasher.

Mathews' shot was his fifth since joining the Tigers, his 15th of the season and the 508th of his career. Up ahead looms Mel Ott with 511 lifetime homers, sixth on the all-time list.

In Baltimore, the Twins made threatening noises in the late innings of the nightcap, but Pete Richert proved equal to the task.

He got out Cesar Tovar and Harmon Killebrew with two runners on in the seventh and extricated himself from a bases-loaded, none-out jam with just one run in the eighth.

The Orioles scored four runs in the second, one on Dave Johnson's homer. In the opener, Killebrew hit a two-run shot.

Tony Horton hit a grand slam homer in the first inning in the Indians' triumph over the Athletics, and Rickey Clark threw a two-hitter for the Angels, beating the Senators.

Nisula Bear Hunt Draws From Afar

Story And Photos By KENNETH S. LOWE

Fifteen hunters with 25 dogs have set up headquarters in a tent camp four miles north of Nisula in Houghton County for two weeks of bear hunting.

They are typical of a dedicated breed of bear hunters who invade the western Upper Peninsula every fall for the early bear season from Sept. 1 to 15.

The party of 15 is composed of hunters from Kentucky, Ohio and downstate Michigan. This is the seventh fall in which they have come to the Upper Peninsula to spend two weeks working their dogs on black bear. Twenty-four of their 25 dogs are Plott hounds. The lone exception is a blue tick.

Three conservation officers in the western U.P. — Richard Beach of Baraga, John McGinty of Covington and Helmer Carlson of Kenton — estimate a combined total of 120 out-state and downstate bear hunters have been camped in their patrol areas since the September season opened. By the time the opening weekend of the season had ended at least 63 bears had been killed by hunters in the western U.P.

Start At Daybreak

The hunters at the Nisula camp set out at daybreak and hunt until the mid-day heat forces them to give their hounds a rest. On one day this week they started a bear near their camp and ran it to Prickett Dam about 12 miles distant before it turned and ran west another 14 miles to Courtney Lake, where the hunters called off their hounds.

Up to mid-week the hunting party had killed only one bear, although they had opportunities to shoot others. They are more interested in training their hounds than in killing bears.

The one bear that was bagged was an unusual specimen — a brown with a reddish coat. It was shot by Roy Walburn of downstate Grand Haven ahead of the hounds near Peri.

CONSERVATION OFFICER Richard Beach of Baraga with bear with reddish coat that was shot by Roy Walburn of the Nisula party and another bear that was taken by a different party of hunters. Bear were kept at Gilbert Grant's locker plant in Baraga where as many as 12 bear carcasses were stored at one time during the current hunting season.

The hunters avoid "garbage dump bears" and as a matter of course refrain from shooting small bears even before Michigan enacted legislation this year protecting cubs.

Hounds Are Starters

A favorite technique of the Nisula camp group for locating bears is to place two of their hounds on a blanket that is fastened to the hood of one of their woods cars. The car is then driven slowly along a woods road where the hunters suspect some bear may have crossed. The dogs reportedly will pick up the scent of any bear that traversed the road within the previous couple of hours.

If a bear is scented, the car is stopped and the hunting party forms a ring around the area in which they think the bear might be. Then the hounds are released, and the hunt is on. Communication during the hunt is by two-way radio.

If a bear is treed, the lead dogs may fight among themselves to establish which lays claim to having been the first to reach the bear.

Loss Few Dogs

Although the dogs cover a lot of country during the two weeks in which they are hunted in the western Upper Peninsula, very few have been lost. One was missing after having trailed a bear last fall but was found by Beach after the hunters had returned home. Another hound, purchased for $500 only a few days before the party came to the Upper Peninsula last fall, was killed by a car on the highway near Albeta.

Completely satisfied with the western Upper Peninsula country, weather, people and bears, the Nisula camper-hunters can be counted on to return every September for many years to come to run their hounds.

Members of the Nisula hunting party maintain communications during bear hunt with walkie-talkie radios. Shown transmitting on two-way radio above is Roy Walburn.

Schools Report Enrollment Up

Gladstone Public Schools had a total enrollment of 1,375 students at the close of school Friday, an increase of 70 students over the 1966-67 school year.

Housing Project Site Selection To Be Considered

The City Commission will meet at 7:30 p. m. Monday to consider approval of a site for the proposed 50-unit low-rent housing project.

A three-acre site on 4th St. south of Dakota Ave. was recommended by William Draper of Chicago, federal project planner. The Housing Commission approved the site Thursday night.

City Manager H.J. Henrikson listed only one other item on the agenda, a discussion of a communication from the city attorney to the State Highway Dept. regarding lease of the city-owned building in the Industrial Park. The Highway Dept. leases the building now as a field office.

Grades kindergarten through six were about the same as last year with 604 students, just one over last year. The James T. Jones School has 512 students while last year only 503 were enrolled. The Buckeye school has 92 students compared with 100 during the 1966-67 school year.

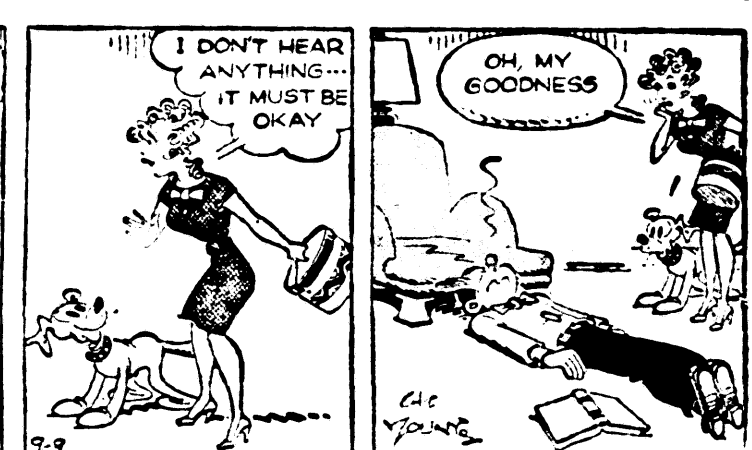

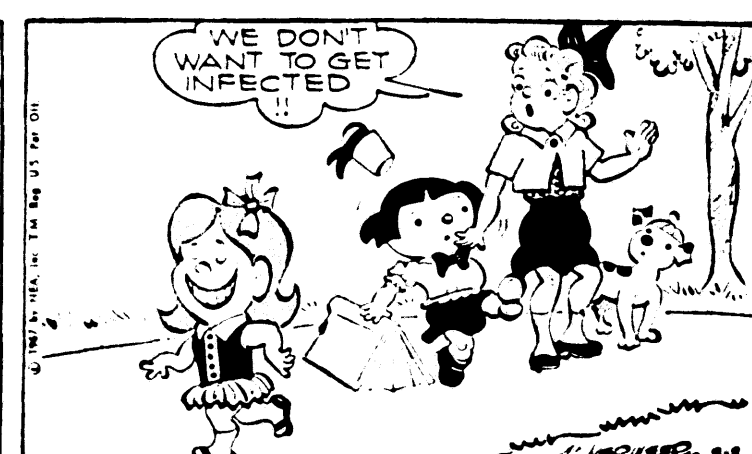

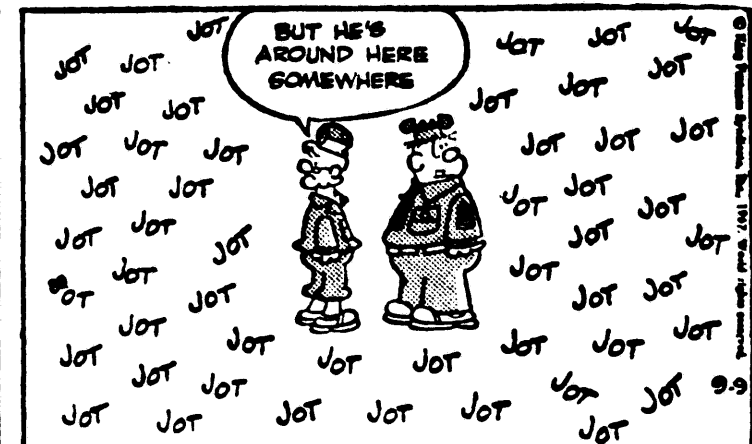

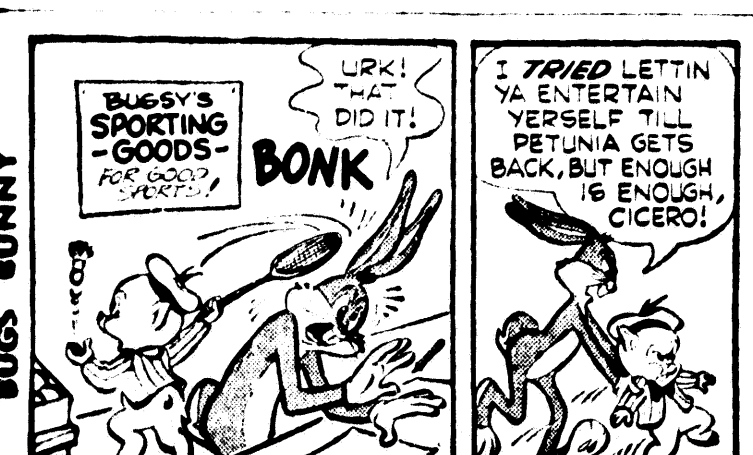

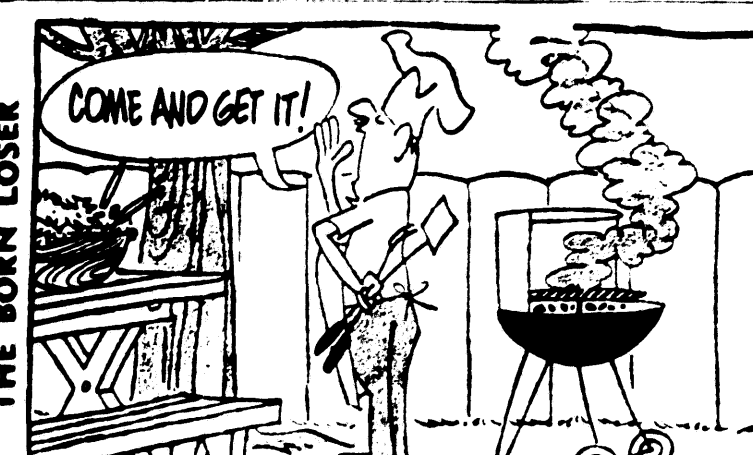

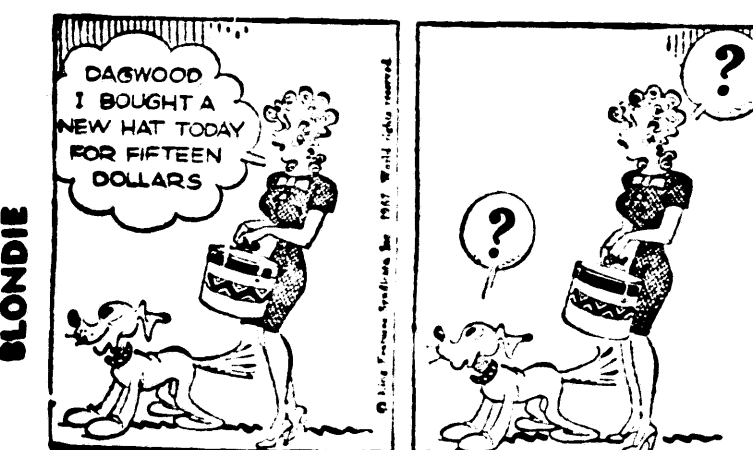

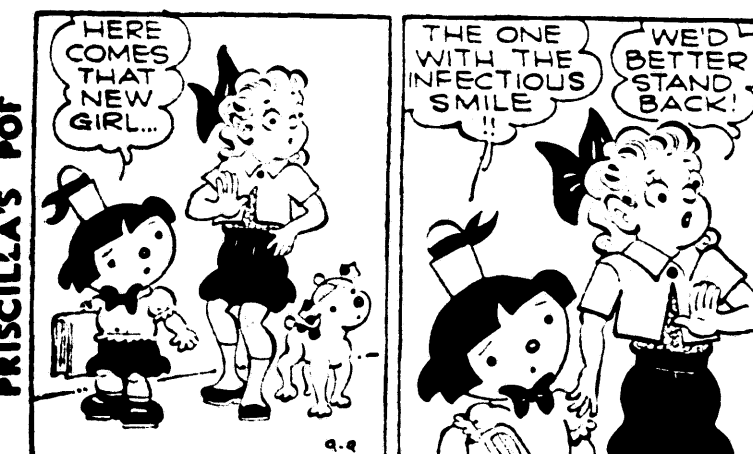

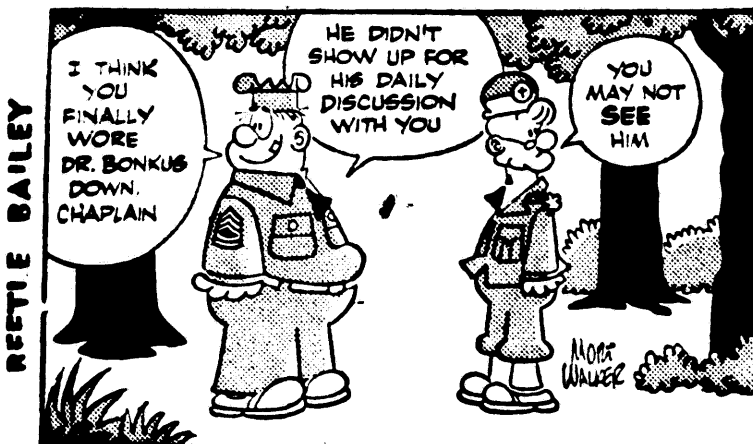

At the Junior High, grades seven and eight, have an enrollment of 186 students. High school grades nine through 12 have 585 students. Last year 168 were enrolled in grades seven and eight while 534 were in the senior high group.

The freshman class has 168 students, including Flat Rock children who come to Gladstone for high school subjects. Last year there were 82 in the eighth grade, for an increase of 86 students.

Other high school classes remain about the same with 162 sophomores, 136 junior and 119 seniors. Last year it was 166, 138, 122 and 108, respectively.

The senior high enrollment shows the largest increase with 51 over the enrollment at the close of school in June.

Judith Fisher, Jack Chrysler Wed On Friday

GROSSE POINTE WOODS (AP)—Judith Elizabeth Fisher became the bride of Jack Chrysler Jr. Friday at Our Lady Star of the Sea Roman Catholic Church in this Detroit suburb.

The marriage joined two of the most well known families in the automobile industry.

The bride is the granddaughter of the late Alfred J. Fisher, one of seven brothers who formed an auto body manufacturing company. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Fisher Jr.

The groom's grandfather was the late Walter P. Chrysler, founder of Chrysler Corp.

Miss Fisher wore a gown of antique Belgian and Alencon laces, created 25 years ago for her aunt, Mrs. Frederick Colombo.

The gown, now mellowed to a honey tone, was inspired by the dress of Venetian women of the 14th century with long tight sleeves ending in points over the wrists, a high draped neckline and caped bodice. The skirt had a chapel train over which fell a full veil held by a jeweled circlet.

Christine Fisher was her sister's maid of honor and the groom's stepfather, F. William Carr of New York, best man. The Rev. William Palmer officiated with the Rev. Ralph Warren of St. James Episcopal Church of New York in attendance.

After a honeymoon in Tahiti, the newlyweds plan to live in Playa del Rey, Calif., where the bridegroom is working for a degree in aerospace engineering at Northrop Institute of Technology.

Author, 75, To Wed 28 Year Old Entertainer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A marriage license has been issued to author Henry Miller, 75, and Hoki Tokuda, 28-year-old Japanese entertainer, but they have ducked all inquiries about when and where they'll wed.

The license was obtained Friday in nearby Santa Monica. Reports here and in New York were that the ceremony will take place Sunday.

The last word from Miller, author of the controversial "Tropic of Cancer," came three days ago. He said: "I'll talk next week."

Miss Tokuda on the same day said: "We'll get married as soon as we get our license. Possibly next week or the end of this week."

She also said they would wed before Sept. 18, when they leave for Paris and Sweden.

The marriage would be her first. Miller's fifth. When they got the license, Miller was smiling but quiet. Miss Tokuda, dressed in a black and white print dress, also said nothing.
